

Mobili Paganelli

For generations, the Paganelli family has been crafting distinctive furniture. Their focus on historical designs in combination with hands-on expertise brings life to their creations. The product of their craftsmanship is evident in the inlaid details of their tables. The scale is simple, allowing these meticulous details speak for themselves. Not only do they utilize the best Italian hardwoods, they also recycle original wood from antique furnishings to complement the opulence of their skill and design.

Their grand library, dining, and trestle tables, cabinetry, and buffets are available in stained, lacquered, and expertly distressed finishes.

Sberna

Sberna offers Deruta ceramics in vivid, bold style, bearing the traditional artistry for which their hometown is famous. Their indigenous red clay creations are painted in vibrant geometrico, arabesque, Rafaelesque, and Deruta patterns to enliven your décor with timeless hand-painted pieces, suitable for tabletop and villa. Envision your favorite pattern in your favorite colors...Sberna will create the dinner set that you will love every special occasion and every day.

Pieracci Seggiolificio

Pieracci Seggiolificio, located near Perugia, has been crafting fine Italian chairs since 1966. Through traditional artisan skill and modern technical efficiencies, these rustic chairs are appealing to the eye, yet of the highest quality. Made exclusively from specifically aged Italian hardwoods, such as walnut, chestnut and oak, employing mortise and tenon joining techniques, the chairs become as durable as they are rustically minimalist and elegant.

To further customize their look, you may choose from leather, rush, wood, or even Busatti upholstered seats to match your style and décor.

La Coccinella

Italian walnut Furniture with its intricate inlay that takes months and decades of experience to create...Fabric that is so beautiful you hesitate to touch it, but you do so anyway and are richly rewarded for your daring...

Boldly colored Deruta Ceramics that add zest to and décor...

Delicious Gourmet products to suit any sophisticated, well-traveled palate, including aged balsamic vinegar tradizionale, famed Slitti chocolates, and earthy white and black truffles...

Mouth-blown Crystal so bright and well-designed you use it everyday as a well-deserved indulgence....

and the Art...the style is so traditional, and yet the imagery is so fresh it stirs the passion in your own heart.

The true heart of Italy can be found exclusively at La Coccinella. Craftsmanship, a nod to tradition, and Old World techniques are prized here. There is history behind every treasure that you will find, as only products that blend distinction, elegance, and quality are offered. Italian artisans take great pains to produce what others feebly attempt to imitate. When you step into La Coccinella, you will understand why. The workmanship in every detail is evident, which makes mass-production an impossibility. Granted, these luxuries are not for just anyone. You must understand and desire the Italian philosophy: understated elegance and practicality seamlessly merging to produce a beautiful, relaxed way of life.

From your custom-made jacquard tablecloth to your one-of-a-kind, breath-taking (...maybe breath-inspiring!) ceramic art, immerse yourself in the fruits of tradition that let you live well ...and dream.

Fratelli Taccini

La Coccinella exclusively represents the original ceramic art by the maestros of Fratelli Taccini, who for over six generations have elevated the Renaissance-inspired Rafaelesque style to glorious heights. Sought the world over for their sacred, contemporary, and rustic Tuscan art as well, these three brothers of Fratelli Taccini have met with international acclaim from the Vatican to Brazil for their compelling artistry and accomplishment.

Busatti Textiles

Drawing from its proximity to the birthplaces of many of the great art masters of the Italian Renaissance, the House of Busatti's fabrics and methods draw from centuries-old traditions and experience. The intricate designs reflect, not only the Renaissance influence, but also the techniques and skill of the Tuscan people, producing items for your home that enhance your interior design and express your refined taste.

While their textiles have now reached global recognition, Busatti dedicates itself to "never disown the origins, the taste, and the quality" upon which it was founded. Thus, ancient carding machines that remain in the depths of Busatti's Morgalanti Palace continue to work the indigenous wools of the Apennine Mountains, which stretch the Tiber and the Arno rivers. Shuttle looms slowly insert weft-threads, made of the best natural fibers such as Egyptian cotton and pure Irish linen, giving Busatti fabrics an uncommon softness and durability.

Every towel or tablecloth bearing their hand-knotted fringe, delicate hand-made lace or elegant hemstitching is a testament to quality, beauty, and longevity. With these gorgeous fabrics, ranging from 6 to 10-foot widths, it is compelling to have Busatti create your bedding, window treatments, and table linens exactly to fit your needs...the perfect example of "Made in Italy."
